

Memories of
The Big Indian Rocks Fishing Pier

Hear former Mayor R.B. Johnson at the Historical Museum's Fall Potluck Luncheon

The museum's fall luncheon features former longtime Mayor R.B. Johnson speaking on the famous Big Indian Rocks Fishing Pier. R.B.'s grandfather was an owner of the pier, and R.B., like many others, has vivid memories of this beloved community landmark. It was destroyed by Hurricane Elena in 1985.

Join us at the museum, Saturday, Nov. 17 at noon for a traditional potluck lunch followed by R.B.'s slide talk. All are welcome - you need not be a member to participate! Just bring a dish to share.

What: Potluck Luncheon followed by R.B. Johnson's talk
When: Saturday, November 17, 12 Noon
Where: Indian Rocks Historical Museum
203 4th Avenue, across from the Post Office

Questions? 727-593-3861